

Do it all outdoors and do it this spring in Schoolcraft County in Michigan's Beautiful Upper Peninsula.

Calendar of Events

Thrill to your favorite song

Schoolcraft County in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is one of the best birding areas in the state, each day presents a symphony of bird voices and chances to watch our winged performers. Your birding experiences will naturally crescendo in mid-spring when thousands of migrating songbirds, birds of prey, shore and water birds traverse our skyways. Bird watchers have observed nearly 400 different species, including Boreal Owls, Kirkland Warblers, loons and pileated woodpeckers across Schoolcraft Counties wilderness, so you can find favorites on your wild bird life list and add new ones, too.

This is a wonderful place to meet other birders. So come UP to hear (and see) the finest symphony we know. If we can help you plan how to listen to your favorite song list.

Go Mountain Biking Ride Your Style

If you like to bike, there is no place in Michigan more scenic, more varied in its terrain or more thrilling in its races than the Schoolcraft County. In addition to our trails, there are hundreds of miles of logging roads, abandoned railroad grades, state and national forest trails, single tracks, off-season cross country ski trails and low-traffic highways that welcome lone riders to tour groups. We are a bicyclists' paradise where you can straddle fat tired bikes in our backwoods of the Hiawatha to the trails of the Scenery Wildlife Refuge. Families can cycle along the shores of Lake Michigan to the bike paths of Indian Lake.

Ply the Wild Waters in Schoolcraft County

You'll hear the thunder of rushing rapids, call of loons, whisper of breezes or howl of wolves as you ply our waters. First time paddlers can ease their way across mirror smooth lakes and down lazy rivers. Avid paddlers can brave the Indian River into the wilderness Or take a tour along Lake Michigan's Northshore where you will find sandstone cliffs known as Snail Shell Harbor in the Ghost Town of Fayette. It's unforgettable

Hike our miles of wilderness or stroll our paved scenic paths.
